3801 West Science

Instructor: Andy Poe, 1129 New Science Facility, 227-1598

This course is REQUIRED for all Computer Science majors. Understanding the point, limitations, and even the history (to some extent) of programming languages will be the goal of this class.

Text: Programming Languages: Principles and Practice, Second Edition, Kenneth C. Louden

This book is available at the Bottum University Center Bookstore.

Courseload: There will be weekly written homework assignments and frequent programming assignments that may overlap the written assignments. These will comprise 60% of your final grade. There will be two optional in-class exams each comprising 10%, and an optional final exam comprising 20%.

Office Hours: I will have office hours from 2:00 to 4:50 P.M. every day except Tuesday. If you cannot meet me at that time, you can schedule an appointment or just drop by; I might be free. (However, 12-1 is my lunch hour.)

Disability: If you have a need for disability-related accommodations or services, please inform the Coordinator of Disability Services in the Disability Services Office at 1104 University Center (227-1737). Reasonable and effective accommodations and services will be provided to students if requests are made in a timely manner, with appropriate documentation, in accordance with federal, state, and University guidelines.
